data centre audits

Data Centres evolve over a number of years where integrated new servers sit alongside legacy systems. These new systems will demand more of your Data Centre environment and you may have multiple, similar data centre domains. These environments are critical in meeting the demands of your business.

Maintaining such environments can be costly; inefficiencies may creep in and potential risks could evolve. You may be instigating data centre consolidation projects or potentially outsourcing the IT function, and understanding what you have in place is paramount to securing the required result of these initiatives.

At Ari we work with our clients to provide Data Centre Audits covering all aspects of operating a data centre. We help identify inherent risks associated with existing practices and environments and will tailor reports to meet each of our clients exact requirements. This means we can address specific issues and make recommendations that will allow you to prepare for the future or streamline the present.

Ari's Data Centre audits can cover, but are not limited to, the following areas:

- > Establish the benchmark
- > Personnel and Roster Reviews
